Editorial Notes

It is with great enthusiasm that we introduce the Volume 5, No. 1 of the Interdisciplinary Journal of Management and Social Sciences (IJMSS). As we explore the insightful contributions of esteemed scholars and researchers, we are reminded of the influential role that cross-disciplinary perspectives play in addressing the intricate challenges of our contemporary world.

In an era of rapid evolution, the traditional boundaries between disciplines become increasingly indistinct, highlighting the importance of cultivating collaboration across diverse fields of study. This edition encompasses a diverse range of topics, spanning Management, Humanities, and Social Sciences, showcasing the depth and interconnected nature of knowledge. At IJMSS, we steadfastly believe in the transformative potential of research and academia to instigate positive change.

Thank You.
